

Colour confidence this Christmas

Joy of Colour

What colour will you be this Christmas?

Look and feel fabulous this Christmas with the launch of a brand new on-line colour consultancy service from Michaela Jedinak, founder of one of London's premier style and colour consultancies, Joy of Colour.

Treat yourself, or a friend, to a detailed, personalised on-line consultation, giving clear ideas of exactly the shades to wear to make you shine this party season.

Michaela's consultancy offers a range of colour and style services to both personal and corporate clients both in the UK and abroad, but she understands that many people are too busy to see her in person, and has designed her personalized on-line service with this in mind.

Simply log on to www.joyofcolour.co.uk, fill in a detailed but easy to use questionnaire about hair colour, face shape (there are lovely drawings to help), eye colour, lifestyle and body shape, and Michaela will send a detailed, personalized colour profile within just five days.

The service, which costs just £49.99, makes a perfect gift and Michaela offers beautifully boxed gift vouchers too. Once a woman understands the shades that suit her complexion and lifestyle, she can share her colours digitally with her partner and friends – making sure that she will never receive an unsuitable clothing gift again.

Experience the Joy of Colour and begin a new way of dressing armed with inner confidence and outer style.
